

GEON

“This book is aimed at Māori rangatahi (youth). It’s a book that features successful Māori from a wide range of backgrounds and careers. These are people that rangatahi look up to, can relate with, and whose stories will inspire, motivate and help them to think about goals, their future and ultimately help them to pursue a chosen career pathway.”
Te Aorangi Harrington

“Being Māori means belonging, it means being unique, being connected to an amazing heritage and a beautiful culture and language. I’m proud to be of a people who are strong, humorous, courageous and resilient.”
Ocean Mercier

Saturday 26 June, 2010 . 6-9pm . Palmerston North City Library . off George Street

You and your Partner are Warmly Welcomed to attend the
Māori Role Models Book Launch

Where: Palmerston North City Library
Sound and Vision Room Entrance
Ground Floor off George Street

Proudly Sponsored by
Creative NZ - Te Waka Toi
Creative Communities New Zealand
Palmerston North Safety Advisory Board
Palmerston North Library

Tawatapu Publishers

MĀORI ROLE MODELS

*Moemoeātia te Moemoeā engari Whakatinanahia.
Dream the Dream but Achieve it as well.*